Red Cross Fund Campaign Total Is Now $44,272

'Porch Light' Campaign Nets $400; Ellwood City Gives Boost

Latest total reported in the Lawrence County Red Cross campaign is $44,272.74, which was announced after the "porch-light" solicitation last night which netted $400 and a late Ellwood City total report of $15,329.

Ellwood City has turned in $4,829 since the last report meeting and can now report a percentage of 147.

Special Commendation
Ralph Conner, chairman of the campaign in Ellwood City, has been singled out for special commendation by County Chairman L. J. Lewis.

N. N. Jaquish, publicity chairman, and C. M. England, who headed last night's porch light program, have expressed their appreciation for the cooperation of those who contributed to last night's special campaign and wish it known that every attempt was made to cover every street.

Lewis says that every effort will be made to reach the $52,000 goal.

Friday Report

Division chairmen, committee-men and Red Cross officials gathered Friday in the New Penn hotel prior to the "One Great Nite" porch light solicitation, to report on the progress of the county drive for $52,000.

A total of $39,060.10, or 75 per cent of the quota, was announced.

Spring concert by the frogs around the county is under way these days, Pa. News is told. The frogs have been "tuned up" for some little time it is revealed.

Lest you forget — Sunday is April 1.

Pa. News noticed quite a few thoughtless drivers in town on Friday. The speedy motorists didn't bother to slow down the autos as they drove over puddles of water in the street. The result was: showered pedestrians, who became rather annoyed when the incident happened several times in the town. Motorists at all times should be considerate of those walking!

Local residents are a bit puzzled just what to call today's weather as March slowly ebbs out for this year to make way for April's milder weather. The young fellow who came in pleasantly on the lamb side of the ledger and at a late hour this morning the weather leaned toward a well grown ram hoping to give the local area just a wee bit more winter.

Members of the Alliance Tabernacle on Pearson street, are temporarily solving their parking problem which has grown serious with many downtown churches, by readying a large lot adjacent to the church building. The lot formerly housed an old residence which has been dismantled. If church attendances continue to boost, the church has in mind an addition at some future date on the vacant ground.

Quite a bit of night flying is developing again over the local area. Sounds of planes traveling over the city can be heard most any hour of the evening or night now. A number of the planes sound like multi-engine jobs, used by the commercial airline firms.

Midnight tonight is the deadline for the use of 1950 license plates on Pennsylvania cars. Quite a few changes will have to be made if local motorists are to operate Sunday on the new orange background plates which have been legal to operate on since March 15.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—President Auriol of France told the foreign ministers of the 21 American republics today that they are no longer "sheltered from all external danger."

Auriol appeared before the ministers in the great hall of the Americas at the Pan American union.

The French chief executive said that under the North Atlantic Pact, the Western Hemisphere understands that its "dream of freedom" is "not impervious to storms since the big currents that carry dark clouds have changed their course that threaten civilization," he added, "Europe and America must forge their geographical limitations to unite together."

Top Aide To Wilson Quits

Clay To Return To Can Co. Position

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(INS)—Prospects for ending labor's boycott of the mobilization program were reported bright today with the resignation of Gen. Lucius D. Clay as a top aide to Defense Mobilizer Wilson.

There was speculation that Wilson might name a labor leader to succeed Clay, who was a chief target of union criticism during his service as special assistant to the defense mobilizer.

Although Wilson's office emphatically denied that Clay's resignation might be the result of a deal with labor, a union spokesman said that chances now are better for labor's return to the mobilization program.

Clay, former U. S. occupation commander in Germany, is returning to his position as board chairman of the Continental Can Co., in New York. Wilson said he took the mobilization post only on a temporary basis.

The defense mobilizer said that Clay was returning to his Continental Can Co. position at the urgent request of fellow directors of the firm, who had given him a 90-day leave of absence which expired today.

ALERT IN SPAIN

Senate Probers May Re-open Dawson Case

By CHARLES B. SEIB

WASHINGTON, March 31.—President Truman may have provoked Senate influence probers into a showdown on the long-delayed testimony of White House aide Donald Dawson.

This was indicated today by Sen. Fulbright (D) Ark., chairman of the investigation into influence and political favoritism in the granting of government loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Matter Reopened
Fulbright said that the president's expression of loyalty to Dawson made at a news conference Thursday, has "re-opened" the Dawson matter and that a decision probably will be made at a committee meeting next Wednesday.

Dawson, the president's powerful patronage chief, has been prominently mentioned in the influence hearings as having an active interest in RFC matters, but he ignored written invitation from Fulbright that he come before the subcommittee and tell his story.

Up until now, Fulbright has rested on that invitation, written February 24. But Dawson's failure to answer and the president's statements Thursday brought indications that stronger action might be taken.

Mr. Truman said at his news conference that he had no intention of either discharging Dawson for his alleged influence activities or ordering—or even suggesting—that he go before the subcommittee.

South Korea To Demobilize 200,000 Men
The South Korean government today decided to demobilize an estimated 200,000 members of its reserve military establishment because of lack of funds to house, feed and arm the men for the fight against Communism.

The action followed severe criticism of President Rhee and his defense minister, Shin Sung-Mo, by members of the South Korean legislature who charged that the Reservist trainees were badly treated in Republic of Korea army camps. The defense ministry said it would begin to demobilize men in the 36-40 age bracket and return them to their farms and villages.

Crime Commission Counsel Is Named

Probe Death Of Pair Found In Cabin Ruins

MAHWAH, N. J., March 31.—(INS)—New Jersey authorities were confronted today with a mystery in solving the deaths of a man and a woman whose charred, bullet-riddled bodies were found in the ruins of a summer cabin owned by a New York magazine executive.

The bodies, believed to be those of an elderly psychoanalyst and his sculptress wife, were found last night at Mahwah, in the Ramapo mountain area of New Jersey. The cabin was owned by John Knox Jessup, chairman of the board of editors of Fortune magazine.

Believed Victims
The victims, their bodies burned beyond recognition, were believed to be Dr. Rolf Joseph Hoffman, of New York, and his wife, Gusta.

The initial police report said the deaths looked like a murder and suicide or possible double murder. Firemen and police had to use ropes to cross the rushing waters of the swollen Ramapo river to reach the burned-out cabin.

Police Chief Charles E. Smith said the bodies were found on the bed-springs of twin beds arranged in an L-shape in the bedroom of the three-room cabin, one of two set back on the grounds owned by Jessup.

The principal clue was a 1938 convertible automobile mired in the mud near the cabin. On the front seat were blood stains, and police found a blood-stained hammer in the back of the car.

The car was said by police to be Dr. Hoffman's.

U.N. Casualties In Korean War Up To 228,981

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 31.—(INS)—The United Nations estimated today that U. N. casualties in Korea since the start of hostilities last June mounted to 228,981 in March.

The breakdown placed American losses alone at 57,120, dead, wounded and missing.

The figures, based on a poll of the 15 nations with troops in Korea, fixed the totals at: killed in action, 25,374; wounded, 128,394; and missing, 75,173.

Combined U. S. and Korean Republic casualties were 225,772. South Korea suffered the highest casualty rate, 168,652.

Third on the list was Turkey, with 1,169 casualties.

Heavy Storm In New York

NEW YORK, March 31.—(INS)—The New York metropolitan area dug out today from under debris left in the wake of high winds and a driving rain which snarled traffic, flooded basements and highways and ripped electric power lines.

The weather bureau recorded 1.69 inches of rainfall during 24 hours. Nearly two and a half inches of rain fell in the last three days.

Wind gusts up to 50 miles an hour were recorded. Northern New Jersey was the hardest hit in the area. Close to three inches of rain fell in the Passaic area. A state of emergency was declared at Paterson, where 50 homes were flooded.

U.N. Speaker Pleases Crowd In Cathedral

Penn Power Club Hears Ma Than E. On Friday Night

If Burma ever decides to appoint an Ambassador of Good Will to the United States, the men and women of the Pennsylvania Power Club have the appointment already.

The ambassador will be Ma Than E, a young Burmese woman who is in the radio division of the United Nations. Friday night she addressed a meeting of the club with about 300 attending from Lawrence, Mercer, Butler, and Beaver counties. With a personality that approaches incandescence, a knowledge of world-wide affairs that is amazing and a delivery that holds interests Ma Than E delighted the power company folks.

Not Stuffy
Her address was factual without being stuffy, interesting because she made it so, educational because she told her crowd some of the fine things the UN has accomplished.

The two particular things she stressed were the technical aid to backward nations and peace resolution. She described what the technical aid meant to her own country, Burma, and of the apparently genuine desire for world peace that actuates most of the UN delegates. Through it all ran a delightfully humorous touch that garnished her address with smiles.

Agreement On Agenda For Big Four Is Remote

PARIS, March 31.—(INS)—The possibility of working out an agenda for a possible meeting of the big four foreign ministers seemed more remote than ever today after Russia demanded that the North Atlantic pact and American bases in Europe be included.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko presented the new demands shortly before the close of yesterday's evening session of the big four deputies' meeting.

The western delegates immediately termed them "a propaganda move." The new move seemed to be a Russian attempt to include the questions as the Soviets' price for agreeing to a discussion of the size of the Communist satellite armed forces and the suppression of political liberties in Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary.

This was indicated when Gromyko asked U. S. Delegate Philip C. Jessup whether the western powers still demanded that alleged violation of peace treaties by Soviet satellites states be put on the agenda.

When Jessup said yes Gromyko then asked his own proposals. The deputies have now been trying for a month to work out an agenda for a big four foreign ministers conference.

Annual Dinner Held On Friday Evening

New Castle Rotary club had its annual dinner for the farmer friends of the members in the Epworth Methodist church Friday evening, around 100 being present for the occasion.

Livingood Speaker
Richard E. Rentz served as toastmaster, the principal address being given by Secretary of Internal Affairs, William S. Livingood, who talked on the subject, "Lost Horizons."

He pointed out that the people in America seem to be drifting farther away from the ideals which have made America great, which is evidenced in all walks of life and endeavor.

He recalled how in his younger days, he coached athletics, and in those days, the initiative and responsibility was placed on the players. Now play is directed from the bench by the coach, and the public has taken too big a hand in the play, with the result that

Vinson Sees Several War 'Tinder Boxes' At Present

By RAYMOND WILCOVE

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Chairman Vinson (D) Ga., of the House Armed Services committee warned today that two "tinder boxes" other than Korea can bring on World War III.

The Democratic leader said the big "danger spots" today are Iran and western Germany.

Vinson declared in an interview that Russian reaction to German rearmament may be violent.

"What will Russia do," he asked, "When we begin rearming the Germans? That's the big question. On its answer may hinge the fate of the world."

Could Provide Spark
The Georgian asserted that the troubled situation in oil-rich Iran could also provide the spark that would upset the armed peace that now prevails. Martial law has been proclaimed in Tehran and the oil regions because of unrest and British warships have been sent to the Near East trouble spot.

Vinson's alarm over the situation in Germany and Iran was heightened by intensification of the House fight over the administration's draft-universal military training bill.

The co-sponsor of the legislation, which has already passed the Senate, was disturbed by a growing tendency among House members to regard the present world situation as less dangerous than it has been heretofore, largely because of UN successes in Korea.

Secretary of Defense Marshall earlier this week declared that the

Plan To Test Power To Force TV Testimony

By FRANK B. ALLEN

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Two camera-shy Kefauver committee witnesses are to be the "Guinea Pigs" in a court test of whether Congress can force its witnesses to testify before the eyes and ears of radio, television and the news reels.

Groundwork for the court decision was laid with contempt of Congress citations against two Cleveland men, alleged gamblers Louis Rothkopf and Morris Kleinman. The Justice Department now has the initiative in the case.

The pair, unlike ten other crime probe witnesses who brooked committee wrath, pegged their refusal to testify solely on the "right of privacy" argument. After preliminary statements, they sat mute while a string of questions was fired at them.

Others cited by the Senate included such big-time operators as Frank Costello, Frank Erickson, Jake Guzik, and Joe Adonis. They are Harry Zeitz, 26, Harold Foster, 26, and David Darvy, 25, all of Philadelphia, convicted of murdering William Kelly, 34, a bystander, during a holdup of Feasterville Inn, Bucks county, in December, 1947. Another man died a year later from a bullet wound received during the gun play.

The trio was transferred immediately to the death block where they will be prepared for execution.

Only direct intervention by Gov. John S. Fine can stay the execution orders. The state pardons board rejected commutation pleas of the three men last week.

Latest Advance In Korea Is On Western Front

Effort Made To Keep Contact With Enemy Forces In Withdrawal

(BULLETIN)

TOKYO, April 1.—(Sunday) (INS)—Two armored patrols with tank guns blazing smashed across Korea's disputed 38th parallel Saturday in pursuit of withdrawing enemy forces.

Both columns pulled back below the parallel to main United Nations positions after their penetration of Red North Korea.

By LEE FERRERO

(U. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, March 31.—Two armored American patrols slashed across Korea's 38th Parallel today in a continuing effort to maintain contact with withdrawing enemy forces.

The First American column which crossed the controversial boundary on the western front at 10:21 a.m. (6:31 p.m. Friday EST) drew enemy fire and then had to fight its way through a Red ambushcade to withdraw below the line.

On Western Front
The initial crossing of the arbitrary border between Democratic South and Communist North Korea was made on the main Uijongbu-Yonchon road on the western front. Uijongbu lies 11 miles north of the Allied-held Seoul and 16 miles below Parallel 38.

The first tank across the line in this action was commanded by First Lt. Theodore McClain of Boston, Mass. McClain reported his column had to fight its way back to friendly positions along a dry river-bed under fire from Red soldiers who were hurling pot-smasher grenades from hill positions.

The second patrol which crossed the border Saturday was led by Lt.

Child Killed By Father's Truck

Ellwood City Boy Meets Instant Death

Little Thomas Lloyd Steckman, aged five years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Steckman, of the Ellwood City-New Brighton road, was instantly killed Friday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, when he fell from the cab of the truck, and was run over by the rear wheel.

Mr. Steckman was just coming into Ellwood City on Wampum avenue, with a load of sand, when the door of the truck came open and the little fellow fell out. The father made a futile effort to grab the boy, he stated. The rear wheel ran over the child's head, causing instant death.

Deputy Coroner Robert G. Damback investigated the circumstances, pronouncing the death accidental.

The accident victim was born at Ellwood City, January 9, 1946, and was the youngest of five children. Thomas is survived by his parents, Jack and Ruth Stratton Steckman; one brother, Richard;

New York Firemen Planning For Vote On Crane Ouster

NEW YORK, March 31.—(INS)—The New York City Uniformed Firemen's Association rushed plans today for an entire membership vote on the ouster of their fire-spending president, John P. Crane, who told the Senate Crime Investigators that he gave $10,000 to former Mayor William O'Dwyer, and $55,000 to James J. Moran, former O'Dwyer aide who recently resigned as water commissioner, won a temporary reprieve from removal from office when 2,000 firemen voted to submit referendums to the entire membership.

He in turn presented New Castle's own piano quartet, Anna Welsh, Kathryn Allen, Barbara Schultz, and Jessie Nelson Reed. Each of them is an artist in her own right, together they did a job of artistic craftsmanship. Leslie Marietta, baritone of Wampum, sang in his usual fine fashion with Gordon Kanagy at the piano. Paul Dingley, assistant to the president welcomed the club in a short address. Refreshments followed.

The meeting was off the usual path of the club meetings, one of which the club can be proud.

Mrs. Roy A. Long, chairman of the residential district, in a generous gesture, recommended to the funds from the porch-light campaign be given separate listing instead of residential consideration as was previously planned.

Lags in the government and motor transportation division were accounted for by Harvey B. Bush and J. Fred Clarke. Bush explained that two of his larger reports are due next week, and Clarke maintained that with the $350 he received this week, his quota is now in sight.

It was noted by L. J. Lewis that county division total is $13,000 better than last year, and that the county as a whole has bettered the 1950 top mark by almost $6,000.

With close to $13,000 needed to be subscribed Lewis scheduled another report meeting for Friday, April 6.

Man Leaps From Passenger Train

In spite of the fact that he leaped from P. & L. E. passenger train No. 28, just this side of the Ohio state line, about 2:45 p. m., Friday afternoon, Elma Williams, Washington, of Porterfield street, Pittsburgh, appeared to have escaped with only minor injuries.

Washington had been placed aboard the train at Youngstown by attaches of the sheriff's office there, and was being sent to his home in Pittsburgh, when the incident happened. Just after the train crossed the line into Pennsylvania, Washington leaped from the train. A passenger reported the incident to the train's conductor, who in turn notified the yard office here.

A train crew was sent out from Youngstown to investigate, and they found Washington wandering along the tracks in a dazed condition. He was turned over to the police at Lovellville, O. who returned him to the sheriff's office.

Earlier, Auriol visited Mount Vernon and placed a wreath on the tomb of George Washington. He then inspected the residence of the first president.

Later, he also laid a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier in Arlington national cemetery.

The French leader last night feted President Truman with a dinner and reception which many guests hailed as unmatched in taste and elegance by any previous Washington party.

Mr. Truman and the chief of state of America's oldest ally both pledged anew the firm friendship of the two nations, with M. Auriol describing the relationship as an "indestructible . . . alliance of the heart" which "can never be rent asunder."

Mr. Truman, toasting the French chief, noted the huge sacrifices made by France in the last war. He declared that American foreign policy is based on the achievement of world peace and an attempt to raise the iron curtain.

Mme. Henri Bonnet, wife of the French ambassador, and herself a fashion designer, was credited with the arrangements that made the after-dinner reception a dazzling social success.

Man Leaps From Passenger Train

In spite of the fact that he leaped from P. & L. E. passenger train No. 28, just this side of the Ohio state line, about 2:45 p. m., Friday afternoon, Elma Williams, Washington, of Porterfield street, Pittsburgh, appeared to have escaped with only minor injuries.

Washington had been placed aboard the train at Youngstown by attaches of the sheriff's office there, and was being sent to his home in Pittsburgh, when the incident happened. Just after the train crossed the line into Pennsylvania, Washington leaped from the train. A passenger reported the incident to the train's conductor, who in turn notified the yard office here.

A train crew was sent out from Youngstown to investigate, and they found Washington wandering along the tracks in a dazed condition. He was turned over to the police at Lovellville, O. who returned him to the sheriff's office.

In Memoriam

William C. Porter
Surrounded by friends we are lonesome.
In the midst of our pleasure we are blue.
A smile on our face, still a heartache.
Lonesome and grieving for you.
Dear Dad, we miss you sadly.
And we find the time long since you went.

And we think of you daily and hourly.
And try to be brave and content.
But the tears we have shed in silence.
And we breathe a sigh of regret.
For you were our Dad, Dear,
And we'll remember you as you were.

When all the world forgets,
Elizabeth, Grace and Ruth. 11*

GOD'S GIFT IS FLOWERS

The traditional way to say "with sympathy" is to say it with flowers. Through the centuries men have turned to this blessed way of expressing their tenderest thoughts to friends and dear ones.

Those left behind will never forget the beautiful memory picture your thoughtfulness helps to create. And in years to come, you gain rich satisfaction in having contributed to the silent sermon on everlasting life that flowers add to this sacred occasion.

Controversy Over Leniency

The controversy over whether convicted German war criminals should be released before the expiration of their terms has flared up again today with liberation of a number of former Nazi generals from a Brussels prison.

Belgium's government unexpectedly pardoned the men despite considerable protest in the Brussels press against any such move.

Immediately afterward, Sir Hartley Shawcross, Great Britain's attorney general who was one of the prosecutors at the Nuremberg war crimes trials, bitterly denounced what he termed a policy of trading leniency for German military cooperation.

Bitter Controversy

What makes the controversy particularly bitter at the present time is the fact that the United States and Britain apparently have conflicting views on the issue.

U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy and Gen. Thomas T. Handy, commander of American armed forces in Europe, recently released 21 convicted Nazis who had been facing life terms in the Landsberg jail.

A short while later, Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick, British High Commissioner, intimated that similar action might be taken in the cases of 240 former Nazi militarists held in the British zone.

He was promptly rebuked by his own government in the House of Commons.

Shawcross, a staunch defender of the Nuremberg trial system as an exposition of true justice instead of revenge upon a defeated people, maintained that the rank and file of intellectually thinking in Germany does not favor premature release of convicted men.

He holds that the best minds in Germany reject anything in the nature of "bargaining" for their support.

Scorn Claims

And Shawcross, a brilliant and highly-esteemed man, says also that the best Germans look with scorn on the claims of Nazi generals that they committed atrocities and ordered illegal acts because Adolf Hitler forced them to.

He has been clearly demonstrated at some war crimes trials that at least some individual defendants acted on their own initiative even if the over-all Nazi military strategy was one of utter ruthlessness and disregard for international law.

In addition to the "victor-vanquished" revenge theory, the heaviest criticism against the Nuremberg type of proceedings is based upon the argument that the verdicts were handed down on "ex post facto" legalism.

In other words, the laws which the accused men were accused of violating were not actually written statutes at the time of the violations and under this precedent, victor nations in any future wars could make up new laws or change old ones with freedom and impunity.

Made One Point

Shawcross made one point of world importance in his defense of the Nuremberg system and his opposition to leniency for war criminals.

He emphasized that the basic reason for the presence of United Nations forces in Korea is the decision of the world body to re-establish law and order on the peninsula.

"It is disquieting," he said, "that there should be those who, either because of mistaken ideas of political expediency or because of the wholly false view that these sentences were no more than vengeance wreaked by the victors upon the vanquished, would seek as a means of policy to take action undermining the validity of what has been done."

When the International Military Tribunal was established at Nuremberg, it was unquestionably true that all its members considered all future possibilities and agreed that the proceedings should be orderly, dignified and open to public view.

Most persons who attended them at one time or another agree that prosecutors, lawyers and judges did all they could to maintain scrupulous fairness, and the voluminous records are eloquent proof that the defense was given every conceivable opportunity to prove a case.

But like other developments of an unprecedented nature and importance, the proceedings are subject to bitter dispute. Posterity, it seems, must become the final arbiter.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

REQUESTS AND COMMANDS CAUSE CONFUSION

Most parents don't appear to consider a request made of a child as different from a command of him. Though they sometimes start off with a request they soon shift its meaning to a command. For example, the tot three, is asked to close the door. If he says, "I won't" or just ignores the request, he is told "You must," and then punished because he doesn't close the door or punished until he closes it. But if the youngster has good stuff in him he might not close that door, even though he were beaten brutally.

The defeated parent then may seize the child and push the door shut by pushing the child's body of his hands against the door. Even so, the child had not obeyed. He was merely a robot used by the parent.

Positive Command

The wise parent does not make a positive command of a child under four or five who does not command him to perform some specific act, unless this parent is very sure from previous experience that the youngster will accede, as in routine matters in which the youngster has had good practice. This parent will make a request instead and be sure not to change this request to a command, having asked the tot, three, to close the door, your request implied that he could feel free to choose to close the door or not. Then if he didn't, you would have no occasion to try to coerce him to close the door, or show the least bit of annoyance at his failure to accede. You merely should have closed the door then yourself or have left it remain open, doing so without word or anger.

But there are many situations in which you would not make a request of a child. If, for instance, a youngster, three or four, were about to run his tricycle into the street, or a child, ten, were about to hit a street lamp with a stone, you would not request him to desist, you would command him just once and punish him adequately at once if he did.

Limit Commands

As a rule you should limit commands of the preschool child to a few things he must not do (which you can check personally). What you want him to do, excepting routines, you should request. Then you won't have a stubborn child but a cooperative and obedient one.

As he grows older, you will properly command him occasionally to do a few things, and he will have enough experience then to profit from punishment in case he disobeyed. Even so, the commands should be rare and generally be limited to some requirement to be done regularly.

Regardless of the child's age, we should strive generally to make requests of him concerning specific things we wish him to do and always treat these requests honestly as requests. Any parent who tries literally to adhere to these basic psychological principles will not find it easy to do but the rewards in cooperation and good citizenship will be immeasurable.

There's magic in honest requests. Wise is the parent who never confuses a request with a command. And blessed is the child whose parents never make a dishonest request.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

There has been a lot of talk concerning the repairing of city streets. We have done a lot, and a lot of street corner experts have taken up the talk. Cost-wise we offer the figures that we have been able to gather concerning "hot-mix" material that is needed to make the streets smooth once again.

Ready-mix "hot-mix" that comes from a plant that specializes in this material costs $6.75 per ton delivered here in New Castle. . . now the city can make its own material after a fashion. It's true there is a tar-kettle in city supplies. . . said kettle can be used to mix approximately three tons per day. . . Limestone to feed this kettle runs at the plant $1.30 per ton (hauling extra). . . liquid mix (that's tar and one drum is needed per 3 tons which is 55 gallons) runs 25 cents per gallon. . . Then to mix the mix it would take four men . . . which runs $9.28 per day per man.

Now take the figures and see where you are. . . Factory mix costs for three tons $2.60 more than that reported to be made here. . . of course, we haven't figured the fuel cost to run the tar kettle. . . the four men that operate the kettle could be laying the ready mix and not waiting around for the tar kettle to reach temperature. Home made mix is not really a mix at all. . . the limestone is placed in a street and one drum is needed per 3 tons which is 55 gallons) runs 25 cents per gallon. . . Factory made material comes thoroughly mixed and is used to fill depressions and then rolled into a solid form.

So really it's much cheaper to buy material. . . the men while waiting for the ready-mix plants to start operation can be used to prepare the streets for the material. . . which has been done on some streets. Other streets could stand a good sweeping which also has been accomplished since these discussions first started. Well there you are. . . facts are facts. . . and fiction is fiction. . . But let's keep politics out of the discussion.

ATOM AND EVA

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Real Blow To Freedoms

WASHINGTON, March 31—The liquidation of La Prensa is a blow to the freedoms on which this hemisphere was founded. There is a kind of dark shame in the eyes that the pictures of dictator Peron and Evita hang in the building that once was dedicated to the search for truth.

It is not just that one newspaper happens to have been destroyed. As symbol, as example, as omen, it is a meaning that we in the United States cannot ignore. Nor can we consider this merely the aberration of a clique that has temporarily seized power in one of the Latin-American Republics.

La Prensa's distinction, its capacity for honest reporting and the expression of forthright opinion rested on the right of the individual to express an independent point of view; independent, that is, of state, of church, of trade union, of any group or combination thereof. It was a right that right goes, then everything goes with it and even so successful and effective an institution as a great newspaper like La Prensa comes toppling down.

What Is Being Destroyed

What the dictator is destroying in Argentina is the fundamental assumption of a free society. This is in the pattern of the totalitarianism of the old world, of Nazi Germany and Soviet Russia, which has cast such a blight on large areas of the earth.

The foreign ministers of the American Republics now in conference here are apparently determined to keep away from this unhappy subject. In any event, there seems to be little they could do about it short of creating a split that could jeopardize the plans

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Dick Maney, dean of New York press agents, has few illusions left about the theatre, but one idol that remains untarnished is Ethel Barrymore. "Here's the kind of lady she is," says Maney earnestly. "Rehearsals for a new show were going badly one day and after long hours of bickering and writing Miss Barrymore sought her dressing room from a state of happy subject. In any event, there seems to be little they could do about it short of creating a split that could jeopardize the plans for the joint defense of the hemisphere. And, in my opinion, for the government of the United States to try to intervene would be to do more harm than good. That might well strengthen Peron who could pose as a martyr attacked by the colossus of the north.

Mr. Kranz took one look at the household bills for the month, groaned audibly, and reached for a headache powder. Mrs. Kranz regarded his antics with vast displeasure. "Let's have none of your small-time pantomime," she grumbled. "If you have something to say, shut up!"

See Warning

What the warning of La Prensa can do is to reawaken not alone in the United States but throughout the hemisphere a new and urgent sense of how vital to the whole organization of our society is the right of independent opinion and its expression. This matter stands somewhat on the same footing as the call for a moral awakening in response to the disclosures of graft and corruption in one community after another in this country. If it does not come, then there is comparatively little that can be done with laws and the police.

It is easy—too easy—for us here in the United States to strike an attitude of smug self-righteousness about what has happened in Argentina. That attitude is in itself a danger since it shuts out of view signs that point in the same general direction.

Far too many politicians right here at home are getting the idea that "if you aren't for me, then you must be against me and there oughta be a law." Sometimes the mere printing of news, of fact, is taken as evidence of partnership and therefore resented. A prominent officeholder recently in a private conversation with a reporter gave vent to indignation over the treatment he had received in the reporter's paper.

"And what's more," he added, "Your paper printed stories about our candidate's stand on civil rights and that might have hurt him and you knew it."

Lack of Understanding

This illustrates a shocking lack of understanding of the right of an independent newspaper to print all the news. When merely to print the news is taken as a sign of favor or disfavor, then we have come a long way from the concept of a free press as it was fostered in the great days of the Republic's beginning.

Huey Long in his wild career sought to bring the New Orleans papers under his thumb. It is one of the first moves of any man bent on dictatorial power. More recently Governor Herman Talmadge pushed for the adoption by the Georgia legislature of bills that would have put the Atlanta papers in jeopardy.

Last fall Senator McCarthy in a speech before a Republican club in Milwaukee urged his listeners to boycott any advertiser placing an advertisement with the Milwaukee Journal. It should be clear to everyone that this is almost identical with the Peron approach.

The Argentine Dictator used the impossible demands of a kept trade union to destroy La Prensa. That McCarthy's appeal had little or no effect is seen in the fact that the Journal last year had the highest advertising lineage any paper ever carried and at the same time eschewed new circulation records. But so was La Prensa once a rich and powerful institution. The will to destroy freedom must be met with the will to preserve it. Otherwise not even the strongest isolated institution or individual can survive.

A BROKEN HIP
Grandma fell down the cellar steps and broke a bone. She couldn't get up stairs and she made things worse by trying to help herself.

They took her to the hospital and gave her the best of care but it was too much for her. Maybe we could do something to make cellar steps safer. A guard rail might help some.

White paint on the bottom step might be a good thing. A good strong light in the right place wouldn't hurt any either.

Granddad says that a good thick mattress at the bottom might ease things up a bit, but you know Granddad.

April Fool's Day Start

By PAUL GALICCO

Sooner or later, someone this Sunday is going to say, "Hello! This is April Fools' Day. I wonder where that originated?"

Will you wear a blank expression on your countenance? Will a glazed look come into your eye? Will you occupy a corner mute and baffled? Oh, no! Not you. For you are a Gallicco reader. And good old Gallicco never lets you down. He digs into his reference and research laboratory and doggone well tells you what all these trick days and customs are about. See here now, you're not going to duck this. You paid for this newspaper and you're going to get everything that goes with it, including education. There's a good chap. Now come along and take your medicine. . . Easy does it.

To begin with, April 1st, All Fools' Day, or April Fool, the sending of someone on a fool's errand or the playing of a silly practical joke is almost universal throughout Christendom, and, what really knocked me for a loop when I read it, in India as well.

Had Orientals Doped Wrong

Me, I always had the orientals figured out as sort of grave chappies with an ancient culture who would never descend to our level of light-hearted occidental tomfoolery.

But what the book says about that is just the contrary and the nearest and most startling analogy not only in kind, but almost in actual date, was and still is the Feast of Huli celebrated throughout Hindustan. The last day of the feast is March 31st, when the chief diversion of the playful Hindustanis is to send people on errands and expeditions that are bound to end in disappointment for the sendee and meriment for the sender and his friends. They carry the joke so far as to send letters making appointments for the boob at the house of somebody who will be absent at the time fixed. And the further the dope must travel to the non-existent appointment and the more the trouble, the bigger the laugh. Well sir, you could knock me down with a stalk of bamboo.

Well know, when the subject of April Fool comes up, the first item of which you can safely deliver yourself is that nobody actually knows the real origin of this custom of playing silly jokes on April 1st, except that it is spring, the sap is beginning to stir, and when there are saps stirring there is always someone about waiting to take them.

Trace It Back To Ark

But right away you can drop in the facts that some doubtful authorities trace it back no less to Noah and the ark and say it arises from Uncle Noah's error in sending the dove out of the ark before the waters had abated and he got the okay from the local flood control authorities. To commemorate THIS fruitless errand we send other folks on similar ones.

Another school goes back to the time of Christ's Passion when he was sent schoolwards and forwards to mock him, i.e., from Annas to Caiaphas, from Caiaphas to Pilate, from Pilate to Herod, and from Herod back again to Pilate.

While the assembled company is still dazed by these possibilities, you really give them a dose of five cent erudition by saying that both those origins are discounted and that the beginning of April Fools' Day in all likelihood occurred in France where it is known as "poisson d'Avril," pronounced pwah-son dahv-reel, and if this doesn't have them hanging onto their chairs, why you just get in touch with me and I'll refund you your money upon receipt of a stamped, addressed envelope containing one dollar to cover the costs of handling and mailing.

Probably Carries Back

And while they are still groggy from this you tell 'em that this means April fish, i.e., a young fish, hence easily caught, and hence still, a sucker as we would call it. And it probably carries back to the alteration of the Calendar in 1564 when New Year's Day was moved from the end of March to January 1st, and hence, only pretended gifts and mock ceremonies were carried out on April 1st, with the idea of making fools of those who had forgotten the change of date. So, if you really want to impress people you can shout "Pwah-son Dahv-reel" at them as you sprinkle them with sneeze powder, or squirt ink in their eye from your lapel flower this Sabbath.

And you can tell the gang furthermore that in 18th century England, a great April Fool joke which, the natives convulsed was to send the nobby to buy a ha' pennorth's of inkle at a shoe-maker's, or to the village bookstore to apply for the "History of Eve's Grandmother," to the grocer's for a pint of pigeon's milk, or to the cobbler's for a little strap oil. And in Scotland this day it is called "Hunting the Gowk!" They'll think they've got you and will ask, "What in the name of thundration is a gowk?" Tell 'em it's a cuckoo. You can trust me, boys. Cuckoo!

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

When the delivery boy brought the groceries this morning, he left on top of the basket a gaily colored booklet entitled "Flibbity Jibbit."

In the lower right-hand corner is the name of the man who wrote the little book, Vernon Grant.

My wife brought me the booklet. "Isn't it pretty?" she said. "A nice piece of advertising."

I was attracted to the brochure by the picture on the cover—a little duckling, all dressed up in high hat, cutaway coat, a gold chain across his stomach. He reminded me of a Congressman.

So I started to read. I read further. I couldn't stop.

And then I decided to write to the people who got out the booklet—they make "Junket," a rennet powder—and ask them to send a copy to every senator, every representative, every cabinet officer, and to the president.

Because here in this advertising booklet is the remedy for many things that are wrong nowadays.

It seems that the King's key keeper was a very sad man. He lived in the great big castle but he had nobody with whom to associate.

There were many crooked halls and each of them had heavy doors "for the King and the King's help-ers."

When he was through with his work, the keykeeper went to his room, ate his supper and was lonesome.

One morning he saw a little bird huddled way up high on a window sill.

"What are you doing there, and what is your name?" the keykeeper asked the little fellow.

"My name is Flibbity Jibbit," said the bird, and told the keykeeper that he was looking for a home. He had been set out only yesterday from his nest to face the world.

The keykeeper took the little bird into his room and they became fast friends.

One evening after supper they went down to the water and the keykeeper accidentally dropped one of the keys into it. It was the key to the king's rennet-custard refrigerator.

That was a terrible catastrophe, because the next day the king was giving a party, and without rennet custard the party would be no good.

The whole court was called in, all the king's advisers and cabinet officers—there was much hollering but no action. Nobody knew what to do.

The keykeeper was put in jail.

Suddenly little Flibbity Jibbit had an idea. He remembered that he was an EXPERT—that his mother had taught him how to swim and dive before turning him loose.

He ran to the water, shouted "Wowie-kee-flowie" and dove in. Up he came with the shiny key, ran to the palace and laid it before the king.

Everybody was happy. The party was grand. The keykeeper was released.

Flibbity Jibbit had saved the day because he was an EXPERT.

Wouldn't it be nice if we could have some Flibbity Jibbits in Washington?

Test Of Unusual And Foreign Road Markers Is Ended

COLUMBUS, O., March 31.—(INS)—The Ohio Highway Department announced the results of tests on 24 foreign and unusual road markers, in the face of criticism that "we don't want any foreigners telling us how to run our roads."

The department closed the tests a day early because crowds of motorists, curious about the signs being tested for the United Nations, were causing a traffic hazard on the road south of Columbus.

State Highway Director T. J. Kauer answered critics of the test, designed to determine the visibility of various markings with this statement:

"If the test prevents one accident or saves one life in one family in a year, it will be well worth the time and effort."

Kauer said the one foreign sign which proved more effective than its U. S. counterpart consisted of two heavy, converging lines, used to indicate a narrow road ahead.

Perhaps the most intriguing of the signs—a miniature locomotive used to designate a railroad crossing—proved to be useless. It is used extensively in Europe.

Kauer said he considered the test a success because it supplied the department with valuable data.

However, Kauer emphasized no changes would be made in the signs of Ohio and the nation, until results of the Ohio test can be combined with similar tests being conducted in California, Minnesota, and Virginia.

The first alphabet is said to have been carved in stone around 1500 B. C.

Congregationalists Plan Communion

Members of the First Congregational church will observe the Ninety-Nine Communion Sunday at the 11 o'clock service. The traditional cry is for the "Missing One," but is now changed to a cry for the "Ninety-Nine" who think that they should not attend church after Easter is over. This will be the first communion service after Easter and the first communion of the Christian church will be observed at that time.

State Police Say:

Even skillful and conscientious drivers often overlook one simple night-time driving precaution. Notice how many times you go around a curve where vision is obstructed or over the top of a hill and find yourself looking right into the full glare of another car's headlights. Maybe you haven't always considered that you ought to watch for the glow that tips you off another car is coming around the curve or over the hill, and lower your lights before meeting the full glare of the lights of the other car.

REPORTED POLIO CASES

HARRISBURG, March 31.—(INS)—Fifteen cases of poliomyelitis since January 1 were reported today by the State Health department.

Ten cases were listed in January, two in February and three in March, according to the department.

Dr. William D. Schrack, Jr., of the Bureau of Health Conservation, pointed out that the 1951 polio trend will not become apparent until after June 15.

Five Day Leaves During April For Afterbury Troops

CAMP AFTERBURY, Ind., March 31.—(INS)—Line soldiers of the 28th Infantry Division in training at Camp Afterbury prepared today for five day leaves, plus travel time, during the month of April.

Division Commander Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler said the leave policy will permit 25 per cent of infantry line companies to be away from camp at the same time during April.

After that, no more than 10 per cent can be granted leave at the same time. Draftees will become eligible for leave after they have completed 11 weeks basic training.

Garden Notes

If you have fruit trees and have not already sprayed them with a dormant spray, do not put it off any longer. Spraying should be done on mild days when the temperature registers 40 degrees or higher and there is no wind.

A home garden cannot be considered complete without some bush and tree fruits. When the garden area is small, carefully selected varieties of dwarf fruit trees can be planted.

Early gladioli may be obtained by planting the corms in boxes of earth this month, and keeping them in a fairly cool, shaded place indoors.

Set out pansy plants as soon as the ground is ready. They will flower continuously if the blossoms are kept picked.

Even though the vegetable plot was not turned up last fall in preparation for this spring, good vegetables can be grown if the ground is "fitted" now.

Wood ashes are a valuable source of potash for the home garden. They contain about four to six per cent potash and about 50 per cent lime. Because of their high lime content, wood ashes should not be used on soil where potatoes or strawberries are to be grown.

Must Have New Licenses On Autos

All motor vehicles must carry 1951 plates after midnight tonight. State police report there is no extension. When an arrest is made of a motorist not having proper license plates on his car, he or she is taken before an alderman, charged with the offense and upon conviction is fined $10 and costs.

PITTSBURGH, March 31.—(INS)—Phony $10 bills are being passed in the western Pennsylvania area, the Secret Service warned today.

He said the paper in the phony sawbucks is somewhat thicker than legal bills and the coloring is somewhat duller. Special targets of the passers, he added, appears to be five- and ten- department stores and gasoline stations.

Folks Of Fame

Dexter, Me., is Senator Owen Brewster birthplace, and February 22, 1888, the date. He was admitted to the Maine bar in 1913. He was elected to the Maine House of Representatives and later to the state Senate. From 1925 to 1929 he was governor of Maine for two terms. He served in the 74th and 76th United States Congress, and has been a member of the Senate since 1941. He was a member of the committee of five senators which made a global flight, in 1943, representing then Senator Harry S. Truman's committee investigating the war program. His home is at Dexter, Me.

Lady Hamilton was born circa 1765, daughter of a blacksmith of Great Neston, Cheshire, England. A friend with whom she lived taught her to sing, dance and act with professional skill. He also introduced her to an artist friend, George Romney, who painted her portrait many times. Later she married a British diplomat at Naples. She was very popular in Neapolitan society and became a favorite of the queen. Her husband died in 1803, and she became the mistress of one of England's greatest naval heroes. At his death she was left quite well off financially, but gambling and extravagance kept her poor. In 1813 she was put in prison for debt, and she died in poverty, in Calais, France, January 15, 1815.

Three Alarm Fire In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—(INS)—A three-alarm fire swept the huge plant of the Monroese Laundry Co., in South Philadelphia early today driving dozens of nearby residents from their homes. Firemen answering the first alarm, turned in by touring policemen, quickly sounded two more alarms because the blaze had gained considerable headway. No one was in the building when the fire broke out.

However, tons of linens and other household laundry were destroyed.

Denny Schill, of Ellwood City, will be speaker at the dinner, which is sponsored by the New Wilmington Kiwanis club. John Buckwalter, Jr., is chairman of the dinner committee.

Veterans Council To Meet Monday

New Castle Veterans Council will have an important meeting in the Legion Home, Monday evening, April 2, at 9:15 o'clock. The session will be held in the Legion Home.

Commander Edward DeCarbo will preside at the meeting. Veterans organizations from the county are to attend. Plans are underway to reorganize the Council into a county-wide group. Instead of having it be a local organization.

Representatives from the Red Cross and Civilian Sponsors Group will be present. County Commissioner Harvey Bush will be present, in addition to Attorney Walter Kiehl, who is chairman of the Armed Forces Day program on May 19. Mr. Kiehl will announce plans for this event.

It is estimated that two-thirds of United States divorcees are granted to women.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

WEDDING

"I am to be married soon and the groom and ushers are planning to wear white dinner jackets with dark trousers. Will you please let me know the kind of tie that should be worn? Is any special type of boutonniere in order? Also, with the groom and ushers wearing white jackets and dark trousers, is it correct for the bride's father to wear a tuxedo?"

Answer: Tuxedos are never correct except at an informal evening wedding (after 6 p.m.) when the bride wears a dinner dress.

At a formal evening wedding when the bride wears the usual bridal attire and has maids and ushers, the groom, the men of the wedding party and the bride's father should wear full evening dress (swallowtail coats, white ties, etc.). At a formal morning or afternoon wedding, formal daytime clothes (cutaway coats, striped trousers, etc.) should be worn.

During the summer at a wedding at which the bride is not elaborately dressed but even when she wears bridal attire, the man may wear informal summer suits, such as white linen or palm beach or dark trousers and white coats—not dinner coats as you suggest. The latter innovation is not in strict observance of conventional rules but is now a popular custom.

Four-in-hand ties are worn with all of the above-outlined clothes—and boutonnières too.

Question: When dining in a restaurant should a man sit to the right or left of his woman companion? When two couples are dining together, should the man sit to the right or left of the woman he is escorting?

Answer: It really does not matter whether he sits to her right or left. When two couples are together, they should sit so that neither the two men nor the two women are side by side.

Lie Detector Test Will Be Given In Chicago Slaying

CHICAGO, March 31.—(INS)—Chicago police said today that a 30-year-old woman who saw her racketeer husband ambushed and shot to death will be given a lie detector test to check her account of the slaying.

Mrs. Dorothy Brissa reported seeing four masked men cut down her husband Fred, 48, yesterday in an alley near their home.

Lt. John Golden speculated that Mrs. Brissa may know the slayer or slayers of her husband and fears the same fate. He assigned two policewomen to guard her.

Theft Averied By Alert Custodian

Only the alertness of Custodian Horace Bradley at the U. S. Post Office, prevented a woman patron from losing her bill fold, which she had laid on the top of the table in the Post Office lobby, the other day, Postmaster William R. Hanna revealed.

Mr. Bradley was just coming out the door of the postmaster's office, when he saw the man pick up the lady's billfold, and start out the door. Mr. Bradley followed him and forced the man to turn the billfold over to the woman. He also secured the license number of the man's car.

A great number of purses and packages are lost in the lobby through the carelessness of patrons, a woman recently losing her purse which contained around $70.

Mr. Hanna warns patrons never to allow their purses or pocket-book to lie around on the tables in the lobby, as there are people who frequent the post office lobby looking for such opportunities to grab up valuables and skip out with them.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Family Records

In the "good old days" family records of one sort or another were kept more often than they are today. Sometimes it was in the family Bible that dates of births, marriages and deaths were kept. Often some members of the family kept a diary. And today, we enjoy pouring over these records.

Modern families seem to go in less for record-keeping than did their grandparents. But some families get a lot of enjoyment out of a different sort of record. The Smiths, for instance—or at least Mrs. Smith—have a system of jotting down interesting things the children do and say. Mrs. S. used to be a teacher and found such records were very helpful in working with the children she taught. Now, with her own youngsters the method seems equally valuable. Sometimes, when she's a little discouraged about Dick's table manners, she looks back to the notes she jotted down a year ago and realizes that he really is coming along all right.

And it's enjoyable, as we grow older, to pull out snapshots, incidents we've written down or notes about things our young fry have said. Perhaps it's a sign of age to be interested in the past but it's still a lot of fun.

HARRISBURG, March 31.—(INS)—Auditor General Weldon B. Heyburn's "conscience fund" is $10 richer today.

The term "Federal American" designated furniture made in America after the Revolution.

Carroll Is Given Until April 20 To Make Reply

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 31.—(INS)—James J. Carroll, St. Louis betting commissioner, today was given until April 20 to reply to charges he failed to report $52,000 in "payoffs" and other payments connected with gambling operations.

The government filed information in Kansas City Wednesday under a little-used section of the income tax laws. Carroll did not appear for his arraignment set for Friday before United States District Court Judge Richard M. Duncan.

Carroll was represented by his attorney, Morris Shenker of St. Louis. Carroll was a witness before the Senate Crime Investigating committee.

Shenker told Judge Duncan that the charges are based on an "unfamiliar" section of the income tax statutes. Judge Duncan and U. S. Attorney Sam W. Wear agreed with Shenker and Wear said he did not object to the delay in filing of Carroll's answer.

Carroll is charged with 26 violations and if convicted could be sentenced to a year in jail and fined $10,000 on each count.

Freight Train Is Wrecked In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—(INS)—A 74-car Pennsylvania freight train was wrecked early today in West Philadelphia when four cars jumped the tracks as they emerged from a tunnel and were enveloped in a spectacular blaze of flaming alcohol.

The alcohol splashed from a tank car which was ripped open when it was dragged along the tracks. Police said no one was injured.

Two of the boxcars crashed through an iron railing and retaining wall into the street, blazing fiercely within a few hundred feet of the big pachyderm house of the Philadelphia zoo. The blazing alcohol harassed firemen, giving off an odor like ether. They labored for more than two hours to control the blaze.

George F. Winter
Observes 45th Year
In Business Here

George F. Winter, president of The Winter Company, 210 East Washington street, is observing his 45th anniversary in the clothing business in New Castle today.

It was on a Saturday, March 31, 1906, that George and brother, Harry, opened for business in the Woods building on East Washington street almost across the street from the present location.

Mr. Winter tells of an old-timer who visited the store at the time of its opening. The old-timer thought that it was fine for young men to enter into a business venture, but he was a little dubious about the electric lights that had been installed and predicted that they wouldn't last.

In 1916 Harry died and the name of the firm was changed from Winter Bros. to The Winter Co., its present name. In 1921 The Winter Co. moved across the street into the building it now occupies.

A modern store was opened at the new location, complete with a new front and the latest in interior design. The front remained the same until two years ago.

Employees of the store are wearing flowers today in commemoration of Mr. Winter's 45 years in business.

Policemen In Brooklyn May Be Indicted

NEW YORK, March 31.—(INS)—The Brooklyn Grand Jury investigating crime and related police graft today was reported preparing to indict many present or former policemen including several of high rank.

The jury also may hand up a presentment based on its 15-month probe of gambling and graft.

It is known that the investigation has indicated that some former high police were directly implicated in operations of the Harry Gross $20,000,000-a-year Brooklyn gambling ring.

This betting network allegedly paid $1,000,000 graft to police from patrolmen on beats up through the ranks to high brass.

None of this was touched upon by the Senate Crime Investigating committee at its New York City hearings, because the Kings County Grand Jury, a holdover from December, 1949, had not completed its probe.

Forecast Hail To Be Shown In Cost Of Living Increases

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(INS)—Defense mobilizers cautiously predicted today that new figures will show an almost complete halt in the wild climb of the cost of living and that spring signs of a bumper farm crop will trim food prices.

Spokesmen declared that an increasing number of government economists are coming around to the view that "a temporary period of deflation" may soon set in which will affect at least certain commodities.

Added to this is a forecast by Federal experts that the cost of living will show little, if any rise, between mid-February and mid-March.

Frank M. Moorehead, of the A.T. and T. Co., is program chairman for the month of April, and has secured the Union High School Chorus to present the entertainment on Wednesday noon. The chorus is under the direction of James W. James, and a fine musical entertainment is promised.

The Man Didn't Know, So We Up And Told Him

He was an average American citizen, skilled in his own line of endeavor, a good neighbor, a fine friend.

But too busy in his own line of work to know too much of what was going on in other fields. He had read some of the anti-truck propaganda about "box car trucks, longer and heavier trucks, unlimited weights" and the usual line of false propaganda.

So we up and told him. The trucking industry doesn't want longer trucks, or wider trucks, or loads that will imperil the highways.

The trucking industry merely asks to carry the load the law permits, to haul that load in modern equipment, to clamp down on over-loading, in short to put Pennsylvania in line with other states that recognize that modern trucking is geared to modern problems.

Motor trucking is progress in transportation. You can't be modern with laws that go back to the solid tire days.

Is it unfair to ask for a square deal? That's all the trucking industry asks.

Can we afford to do less than the quota for the Red Cross?

Farrell Battles Allentown Tonight For State Class A Floor Title

Tradition Will Be Riding With Impressive Canaries

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—(INS)—Tradition, Sobeit, is expected to hold sway tonight when Allentown, which never lost a championship final, and Farrell, which never won one, tap off in the 32nd annual game for the Class A PIAA basketball crown.

A sell-out crowd of more than 8200 is expected to witness the fray on the University of Pennsylvania Palestra hardwood in Philadelphia. Farrell, the western finalist, has an impressive 28-2 season log, and is paced by Julius (Hooks) McCoy, 6-foot-2 forward, who has scored 457 points. His last shot in the final seconds of their game with Westinghouse last Wednesday, gave the Steelers a 55-54 victory and title bid.

Allentown Determined
Allentown, noted for its famed teams of the past, is back in the "big time" this year after being stripped of its state crowns for 1946 and 1947 for using ineligible players.

The Canaries, with a 20-5 record appear to be a more rounded team. They utilize the fast break with an accent on shooting and scoring, which has paid off with a new club record of 1652 points for the season.

This included a tournament record of 103-55 when they swamped St. Clair in the District 11 final.

Snyder Standout
Standout in the Canaries attack is center Bill Snyder, with a team record of 433 points in his log. Allentown's first Class A crown came in 1935. The Canaries came back in 1945 to recapture the title, and followed up with the since disqualifying victories in the two following years.

Farrell's only bid for the state crown was in 1943, when the Steelers fell to Lower Merion, 29-28. The East has won 20 of the 31 championship tilts.

Ike Williams, the "defenseless" king of the lightweights, is studying the field for a suitable challenger for his 135-pound title.

Kutztown Again Class 'B' Champs

Defeat Avalon At Stadium 51-48

PITTSBURGH, March 31.—(INS)—Kutztown high school today wore the PIAA Class B state basketball crown after stopping Avalon 51-48 at the stadium in Pittsburgh last night.

It was the second straight Class B title for the Cougars from Kutztown. The Avalon Panthers went into the third quarter with a 24-21 lead, but the Cougars were able to turn that into a 34-33 advantage before the final period started.

Weidenhammer Stars
Ronnie Weidenhammer, an All-Pennsylvania Class B forward from Kutztown, broke loose to score 10 points almost single-handed and assure his team another crown.

Avalon set a terrific pace in the early moments of the game, but then appeared to slow, particularly in the second and third quarters. The game was tied 11-11 at the end of the first period.

Some 2,474 fans, more than 1,100 of them loyal rooters from Kutztown, witnessed the match.

Diamond Dust

(By International News Service)
The Chicago Cubs seem to be scheming to make a fast start in the National League pennant race. Only their cross-town rivals, the White Sox, have a better exhibition game record, and the Cubs are the first club to send a pitcher the full nine innings.

Right-hander Frank Hiller, a New York Yankee castoff, went the route against his former mates yesterday as the Cubs won their world championships, 5 to 2. Hiller allowed nine hits.

It was the Cubs' 11th victory in 17 exhibitions. The White Sox topped the St. Louis Browns, 3 to 1, for their 13th triumph in 18 games.

Yesterday's batting star was Jimmy Bloodworth, Philadelphia Phillies utility man, who socked two three-run homers—the second in the tenth inning—to give the National League champions an 8-to-5 decision over Washington.

The New York Giants suffered a double loss. They dropped a 7-to-4 verdict to the Boston Red Sox, and Rafael Noble, the big Cuban catcher, suffered a badly sprained ankle that may sideline him for the remainder of the training season.

Detroit walked the St. Louis Cardinals, 10 to 4; Cleveland downed Pittsburgh, 6 to 3, and in a night game the Boston Braves' Warren Spahn and Dick Donovan shut out Brooklyn, 4 to 0.

Meanwhile, the Cubs waived on Johnny Vander Meer preparatory to making the Veteran right-hander a free agent. The 36-year-old Vander Meer, who pitched two consecutive no-hitters for Cincinnati in 1938, won only three games and lost four last year.

All-Star Game Carded-Tonight

Phog Allen of Kansas directs a western squad that includes Roland Minson and Mel Hutchins of Brigham Young; Marcus Friesberger of Oklahoma; Whitey Skoog of Minnesota; Dan Bagley of Notre Dame; and Bill Garrett of Indiana.

Stars on Clair Bee's eastern squad include John Azary of Columbia; Zeke Sinicola of Niagara; Paul Horvath and Sam Ranzino of North Carolina State, and Jim Slaughter of South Carolina.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

AN ANGRY REPUBLICAN LAWMAKER at Harrisburg has accused the state game commission of masterminding a campaign to kill legislation adding four assemblymen to the agency in an advisory capacity. Representative William R. McMillen, Indiana, one of the co-sponsors of the proposal, said the commission is "casting suspicion" on itself by flagrant effort to pressure him into recalling the measure from the floor, according to the I.N.S. Under provisions of the bill, co-sponsored by Representative Norman Wood (R) Lancaster, two lawmakers each from the House and Senate would be selected to maintain liaison between the commission and the legislature. They would not have voting privileges.

The bill, hanging on the house work calendar for several weeks, is ready for final consideration. McMillen said he was determined to press for passage by the house early in April and would seek prompt senate consideration thereafter.

"It is difficult for the members of the legislature to understand why the commission is trying to kill the measure because its intent is to work out closer cooperation between the commission and the General Assembly," McMillen said. The proposal also would change the membership of the fish commission, the historical and museum commission and the state council of education. The game commission has been the only one to oppose it. McMillen reported flatly. He charged the commission with persuading game protectors to work against passage. Members of sportsmen's clubs have been asked to instruct their representatives in the legislature to reject the proposal, he said.

TWO WELL-KNOWN OUTDOORSMEN are sponsoring a program to organize sportsmen into an "auxiliary police force" for service during a national emergency.

The idea, and it seems like a good one, comes from Frank Pierce of Natick, Mass., and Roy S. Tinney, of Brielle, N. J., both prominent in sportsmen's circles.

Their plan is to organize units from gun clubs, composed of hunters and shooters able to handle firearms effectively.

The point out that the Texas Rangers originally were volunteers who reported for duty riding their own horses and carrying their own arms, the I.N.S. says.

"Today we need mechanized cavalry mounted on 'tin broncos' . . . rolling rangers' driving the cars they use everyday," they suggest. They have even suggested an insignia—a wheel overlaid by crossed guns.

The uniform would be hunting clothes suitable to the season, and armbands to be worn while on duty.

According to the plan, the minimum unit for a small town would be a patrol car manned by a sergeant and three troops. Units would be enlarged to squads and companies, etc., in larger communities.

The originators of the plan think it is a workable one if carried out in conjunction with established "civilian emergency groups" of a community, and of course with the permission of the established police authorities. . . . A new pamphlet has been prepared by the Pennsylvania Fish commission illustrating in pictures and text all of the reptiles and amphibians to be found in the Keystone state.

Detroit Wings Invade Montreal

(By International News Service)
The defending champion Detroit Red Wings will be fighting for their hockey lives tonight as Stanley Cup semi-final playoffs resume at Montreal and Toronto.

The Red Wings invade Montreal's home ice training the Canadiens by two games as the result of two overtime defeats in Detroit, both on crucial goals by Maurice (Rocket) Richard.

At Toronto, the Boston Bruins will seek to make it two straight in their best-of-seven series with the Maple Leafs. Toronto was weakened in Wednesday's opener by a knee injury to Al Rollins, Vezina Trophy goalie, who probably will miss the rest of the series.

Veteran Turk Broda will mind the Toronto nets.

Hornets-Bears Clash Tonight

(By International News Service)

The Pittsburgh Hornets' impregnable defense is expected to get a severe test tonight when they clash with the high-scoring Hershey Bears in the opening game of the American Hockey League's semi-final playoff series.

The Hornets, who were thrown out of the playoffs and then reinstated by the league's board of governors, hope to run over the Bears in three straight games in their best of five series.

But hardly anyone expects the series to end in a three-straight affair for either side.

Rely On Mayer

Pittsburgh will rely heavily on its tight defense, led by Goalie Gil Mayer who held the opposition to an average of only 2.45 goals per game during the regular season. His work at the net won him the Harry Holmes Memorial Trophy award.

The Bears, with five players among the league's top 20 scorers, will depend on their powerful attack to overwhelm the Hornets.

Indians' Pitching May Hold Answer

The way the New Castle Indians situation is shaping up today it will depend on what kind of pitching they get this summer.

Nothing has been heard from Frank Wagner, the veteran, Buffalo, N. Y., flinger, so far. Wagner turned in 11 and 7 record last year and in 1949 won 18 and lost 9 for the Senators.

So far only Stan Zedalis is sure of returning, with Bernie Rossman and the club a little apart yet on salary. Bill Ciske, the hurler, bought from Johnston does not want to report, and may buy his contract. He wants to play in Wisconsin, his home state.

Manager Al Milnar is being figured on for relief roles at least when he is not in the outfield. Ted Toles, the Newton Falls, Ohio, negro star, is a hurler and may help out the situation.

Becka and Churchill have moved up, with Lesko in the navy.

Perhaps Milnar can persuade the Cleveland Indians to part with a couple of pitchers after they break camp at Dayton.

The demise of Happy Chandler as baseball commissioner is evidence that the man who runs the game must bulldoze the club-owners or they will bulldoze him and finally fire him.

Gavilan Decisions Hairston; Will Battle Bratton May 18

By JOHN BARRINGTON (I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, March 31.—Kid Gavilan, the sleek Cuban hawk, looked ahead today to a welter-weight title bout, the next order of business following his expunging of an old score.

Gavilan, who will meet Johnny Bratton for the title on May 18 at Madison Square Garden, settled accounts in the same arena last night with Gene Hairston, the deaf-mute Harlem middleweight who took a split decision from the keen five months ago.

The Cuban won a unanimous verdict last night in a ten-rounder, and he hadn't looked as sharp in a long time. He missed more often than not with his window-dressing bolo punch, but his right cross and hard left hook packed too much authority for the 21-year-old Hairston.

The defeat was Hairston's first in 14 fights, but it was no disgrace. One of his jarring right hooks split the top of Gavilan's ear early in the battle.

No Knockdowns
That injury bled thereafter. It was the only blood drawn, and there were no knockdowns. But it was a highly satisfactory performance for 7,617 fans who paid $27,430 into the garden coffers.

Referee Ray Miller scored it the closest, giving Gavilan five rounds, Hairston four and calling one even. On the cards of Judges Charley Shortell and Arthur Aldala it was Gavilan 6-3-1 and 7-3 respectively.

Gavilan, a 2-0-1 favorite, weighed a somewhat upholstered 150 to Hairston's 155½.

Judge Landis, the only other one-man ruler the game ever had, learned early in his baseball life as commissioner that he had to hold the whip hand at all times, and he never relinquished for a moment his dominating position.

Advocate New Plan For Antlerless Deer

HARRISBURG, March 31.—A new plan for holding antlerless deer seasons in Pennsylvania moved toward a vote in the House Thursday.

A bill, sponsored by Reps. Harris Breth (D-Clearfield) and George Goodling (R-York) went to the floor for initial action after winning approval by committee yesterday.

The measure would establish special licenses at $1.00 each for the antlerless deer season. Present law permits hunters to hunt for both antlered and antlerless deer with the same license.

Breth said his bill is intended to help cut down what he termed the "unrestricted slaughter of antlerless deer in Pennsylvania."

Shadyside To Have Meeting Sunday

Shadyside Athletic Association will meet Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at 369 East Washington street, it is announced by Nick George.

Members and prospective members should attend. After the meeting the charter will be closed. Plans will be made at the meeting for the coming softball and golf seasons.

King ranch, which won the Kentucky Derby in 1946 with Assault and last year again with Middle-ground, has nominated four colts for the 1941 running—Black Douglas, Long Bow, Sonie and Mazinga. The last-named is the son of derby winner Bold Venture, which also sired Middle-ground and Assault.

The Dodgers have had 23-year-old outfielder Tommy Brown on their roster since 1944 and 26-year-old pitcher Rex Barney since 1943. And except for occasional bright spots, neither has made the first string.

Stassen Sees No World War
Within Next Three Years

CHICAGO, March 31.—(INS)—Harold Stassen said Friday that Russia is working feverishly on the development of a jet missile that will automatically seek out and destroy bombing planes in the air.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a luncheon of the Executives Club of Chicago, the former governor of Minnesota said that, if perfected, such missiles would make strategic bombing from planes a thing of the past.

He declared that the Russians also are busy putting their key industries behind the walls to protect them from air attack and said the efforts to wipe out dissident groups within Russia are being stepped up.

Despite this, Stassen said, he does not believe there will be a world war within the next three years.

He noted that Soviet strength has been overestimated and that of the U.S. and its allies underestimated.

Stassen, now president of the University of Pennsylvania, declared:

"Careful study convinces me that if the Soviet Union starts a war tomorrow or at any time within the next three years, Russia will be destroyed at home by American air and atomic strength and will face a counter-revolution of many millions now imprisoned in her empire."

"The Kremlin leaders know this."

Stassen charged the disregard by the Democrats of advice offered by the Republican party was the "major reason for the very bad postwar record in American foreign policy and for the world peril to our country today."

Stassen said he differed sharply with Republicans who want America to "withdraw to a Gibraltar or fortress of this hemisphere with outposts on two oceans."

Such a move, he added, would be interpreted throughout the rest of the world as a "timid and cowardly retreat by America in the face of communism."

To Open Cancer
Crusade April 2

Mrs. Blake H. Waldo, and Edwin O. Feass, co-chairmen of the 1951 cancer crusade for funds have announced that solicitation will begin Monday, April 2.

It was disclosed through the county cancer office that the society's program is three fold: research, service, and education, and that funds will be allocated according to the needs of these specific programs.

A great part, 25c out of each dollar, is sent to the National Research Council before local organizations use any portion of the funds.

Census Bureau
Releases Figures
On Congress Areas

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(INS)—The census bureau today began releasing county-by-county population figures for the 16 states slated to gain or lose seats in congress.

Census officials said "a lot of pressure" has been put on them to get the figures out in a hurry so the states will have no excuse for delaying re-apportionment.

The population of California and Pennsylvania counties as determined in last year's census was released today. Similar figures will be announced in the next few days for Florida, Maryland, Michigan, Texas, Virginia, Washington, Missouri, New York, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Illinois, Kentucky, Mississippi and Tennessee.

HARRISBURG, March 31.—

The State Labor and Industry Department reported today that 359,500 more Pennsylvania had jobs on February 15, 1951 than on a comparable date a year ago.
